The Wisconsin Veterans Museum Research Grant

The purpose of the Wisconsin Veterans Museum Research Grant is to encourage the study of Wisconsin's role in American military history by facilitating the use of the museum's collections. Recipients will be scholars at the graduate, postgraduate, or instructor/professor level; or be other professional scholars or authors; or have comparable qualifications based on experience. They will be writing theses, dissertations, articles for scholarly peer reviewed journals, or books on significant subjects that are well supported in the WVM collections. The grant will be provided in the form of a $500 honorarium to support research expenses at the WVM (travel, lodging, meals, copying).

A committee reviews each application based on the applicant's research topic, the availability of relevant materials in the WVM collections, and the potential for producing publishable work. The grant does not support research at other institutions, and it does not provide general tuition support. Applications must be postmarked by April 15. Notification will be made by June 1.

Tentative Title of Research Project:

Please attach the following:

•A brief description of your project that addresses the topic and thesis of the project. Briefly describe the resources you anticipate using at the Wisconsin Veterans Museum and how they will contribute to the overall project. Search WVM collections at http://www.wisvetsmuseum.com/collections/search and contact the reference archivist at reference.desk@dva.wisconsin.gov with questions about WVM collections.

•A current resumé or CV

•A letter of support from your supervising professor [graduate students only]

The intent of the Wisconsin Veterans Museum Research Grant is to pay for costs associated with research conducted at the Wisconsin Veterans Museum.

I agree to provide the Wisconsin Veterans Museum with a final copy of my research project (thesis, dissertation, article, monograph, etc.) for addition to the collections. I agree to permit the Wisconsin Veterans Museum to use my name and research project title in lists of grant recipients on the WVM website, social media sites, and other publications. I understand that the decision of the Wisconsin Veterans Museum on whether or not to award a grant is final.
